M.H.S. WINNER IN LITERARY CONTEST

RUTH MILLER OF LOCAL SCHOOL TAKES FIRST IN GIRL'S DECLAMATION

SAVANNAH ALSO WINS

Octette From Benton High, St. Joe, Takes Musical Contest—Maryville Quartet Handicapped.

The final half of the literary contest held in connection with the Tenth Annual Track and Field Meet of the Northwest Missouri High School Association was given Saturday night at the Maryville High School Auditorium Maryville winning first place in the Girl's Declamation contest.

Miss Ruth Miller of the local school, won the Girl's Declamation for Maryville with a humorous reading, "At the Matinee."

Lucile Kerlin, Albany, won second place in this event; Ada McCullough, Cameron, third; Cleota Hendrix, Cowgill, fourth, and Hazel Dickey, St. Joseph, fifth.

In the Boy's Oratorical contest, Norris Crosby of Savannah, was the winner; Ralph Lanning, New Hampton, second; Roy Arrowwood, Excelsior Springs, third, and Louis Baum, St. Joseph, fourth.

The Octette from St. Joseph was the winner of the musical contest, with the sextette of Liberty High, second.

Miss Miller, the winner of the Girl's Declamation for Maryville, gave "At the Matinee," the same number in which she won the preliminary contest here several weeks ago and the excellent delivery and acting which she put into the piece easily assured her the winning place.

In the Boy's Oratorical contest, Norris Crosby was the winner with an address on "A Message to Garcia." Crosby won the decision of the judges through his forceful delivery, and the clear presentatioon of his points.

In the musical contest Benton High of St. Joseph, presented an octette which was an easy winner in the event. "New and Old Kentucky Home" was the title of the song given by the group and the down state representatives showed that they were real entertainers. The Liberty Sextette also put on a very good number which was appreciated by the audience.

The Maryville Quartette, originally entered in the Music contest, suffered a misfortune in the inability of Clifford Hull to appear owing to illness. Russell Allan, Lee Maier and Floyd Foreman, appeared as a trio, and although their presentation was success ful it was generally conceded that their chances for the cup would have been materially increased if the fourth member had been able to be present.

The contest was well attended last night, many of the students from the s hools entered in the track meet during the afternoon remaining over to hear the final event.

The fifth high school district, the district of which Maryville is the center, was very successful in the literary contest this year, being the winners in four of the five first places offered.

Miss Nora Abels of Maryville and Roy Logan of Arkoe were the lucky ones to win diamond rings at the opening of the Kuchs Bros., jewelry and stationery store Saturday afternoon. Miss Abels number was 174 and Mr. Logan's number was 54. Over 600 registered at the store for this contest. A number of others visited the store who did not register.

NODAWAY CO. GOES OVER IN V-LOAN

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO GO $40,000 OVER QUOTA

"HONOR FLAG" FOR POLK

Big Supscriptions Predominate in the Campaign—"Clean-up" Drive Being Made at Hughes and Monroe Today.

Nodaway County oversubscribed her quota in the fifth Victory Liberty Loan it was announced by Chairman C. E. Donlin, head of the Loan Committee for this county today.

The Loan drive ended at midnight Saturday night, and Chairman Donlin announced that the entire quota of $1,040,750 had been subscribed at that time. The work of tabulating the various subscriptions is being carried on at the banks throughout the county today and the Loan leaders stated that a final report of the amount sold at each place would be ready for publication tomorrow.

Owing to the poor condition of the roads, the Committees in Hughes and Monroe townships have not been able to make a thorough canvas of the territory, and these two districts are the only ones in the county that have not subscribed their quota.

Chairman Donlin stated that the work is being carried on at these places today and that every effort is being made to secure the "honor flag" for the townships, and give Nodaway County a 100 per cent average for the drive. Mr. Donlin said that if the two townships go over by night, Nodaway county will be approximately $25,000 over her quota.

Chairman M. E. Ford, of the Polk township committee, stated today that although the entire quota of $429,350 had not been raised by individual subscriptions, the county went over the top through the action of the banks in taking up the deficit.

The banks will keep these bonds, it was announced, and will dispose of them later to those who may wish to invest in the Victory notes.

Chairman Ford announced today that the Victory Loan in this county and township has been subscribed almost entirely through the banks and through volunteer investors. "There have been fewer subscriptions in this Loan than in the previous ones" said Mr. Ford, "but as a rule the subscriptions have been for larger amounts." Fifty and one hundred dolar subscriptions were rare in the drive just passed, he announced.

BILLION OVER LOAN QUOTA PREDICTED.

Washington, May 12.—The over-subscription to the Victory Loan will total at least one billion dollars, the Treasury officials predicted today.

Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, pastor of the First M. E. church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Maryville High School at the union service held last night at the Christian church.

The entire graduating class of the school occupied seats at the front of the church, and attended the service in cap and gown.

In his talk, Rev. Cox took as his subject, "The Man for Tomorrow" and in an impressive manner told the graduates of the things that are expected of the man and woman of tomorrow. In his talk Dr. Cox showed that the young people of the present time have better and wider opportunities to make good than ever before, and urged each of the boys and girls who are now completing their school training, to make the most of these opportunities which are offered them.

In connection with the talk by Rev. Cox, a program was given, which was taken part in jointly by representatitves of the various Protestant churches of the city.

Rev. R. C. Holliday of the South Methodist church, delivered the opening invocation and a Scripture reading was given by Rev. W. C. Ferguson of the Baptist church. Rev. S. A. Coile of the Presbyterian church said a prayer during the service and a number of hymns were sung by the entire congregation.

New Idea for City Power Plant

J. J. Gillinger of Quitman, Mo., Adopts Water Wheel Principal in His Invention for Cheaper Power.

If necessity is the mother of invention, opportunity is the male parents, according to J. J. Gillinger of Quitman, Mo. And to what he terms the necessity always to save money, and to the opportunity to save it in dealing with America's waterway problem, he gives the credit for his floating electric unit. which he believes will prove a most efficient means of generating electric current.

"It's a damned dam, without a damn," said the inventor.

Gillinger's aim was to build generating plant to be operated by water power without the expense of daming the stream. So he built his water wheel on a boat. And he geared the wheel to a dynamo. He swung the boat out into the stream, towed it to where the current was strongest, cabled it to piles driven in the bank on either side of the stream, and his floating power plant was complete. All that was left to do was to wire his "juice" to his "load."

All this, however, was done in his ind. It looked so practical on paper Mr. Gillinger had the idea pattnted Jan. Gillinger had the ieda patented Jan. 28, 1919, and now he is offering it for sale to cities, towns, corporations, individuals—any one who can use inexpensive electric power.

It Floats.

Gillinger's idea is adaptable to small and large streams alike. It has many advantages over the old mill dam, and the inventor believes it will compare well with the old-style machinery in mechanical efficiency.

The mere fast that the water wheel floats insures steady and equal energy being exerted against the wheel, thereby relieving the danger of a shutdown because of low water in the stream, or because of floods. The entire plant is always at the water's level.

To direct stronger current, against the wheel, deflectors are built on the upstream end of the pontoons which form the hull of the boat. These deflectors, built of wood or iron, may be of any length and depth, according to the width and depth of the stream. They are hinged to the scows and may be set at any angle. If because of high water the current is swifter at certain seasons, the angle may be reduced, there by decreasing the amount of water directed against the wheel. The two scows which form the hull of the boat are also cut at an angle. These form a continuation of the deflectors, pushing more current into the apperture between the scows.

Can Regulate Current.

Both the deflectors and the wheel may be raised or lowered in the water. The deflector may be made to rest on the bottom of the stream if necessary, and the wheel may be lowered to near the depth if the load demands.

The deflectors may be swung together at the upstream end, forming a water-split or bow for launching the scow, or in case of floating ice cakes that might damage the water wheel mechanism. A brace placed across the deflectors holds them in place and prevents driftwood nd the like from entering the slushway. The brace may be extended into the water for deflecting drift and ice.

It Won't Freeze Up.

In the event that the stream freezes over the eficiency of the plant is not materially decreased. Ice is always at the water level, and even though the scow may freeze in the ice the wheel is still in contact with the current underneath. The constant churning of the wheel alone will prevent the water immediately between the pontoons from freezing, at least until the entire stream has frozen over. After the surface freezes the air suction of this one opening in the ice, together with the movement of the wheel, will prevent freezing. In extremely cold climates electric coil heaters operated from current generated by the water wheel may be used to advantage.

The power unit is equally as practical on the larger rivers. On the big stream the current is stronger, and consequently more power can be generated. The deflectors and the depth of the water wheel can be set to receive the proper amount of current energy.

Boats Can Go 'Round.

With the floating dam in operation, locks or canals are unnecessary to river traffic. In rivers where boats are in common use, the power unit may be moored to piles driven at any place in the river bed. The entire plant may be swung into the middle of the river leaving ample room on either side for boats to pass.

The unit may be built in any size to suit the power needs. The specifications call for a ten-foot wheel. That is, a water wheel ten feet in length, he diameter being proportionately greater to afford more lererage against the drive shaft, and to make it possible to lower the wheel into the current to the desired depth. A unit of this size, Mr. Gillinger estimates would develop power enough to supply a small smaller unit would be sufficient to furnish power for farm machinery, or for lighting a summer camp.

If the load is heavy a multiple-unit plant may be installed. The scows may be anchored one directly behind the other, each unit developing equally as much power as the first, probably gaining a few revolutions because of the turbulent water in the wake of the first unit, and more water would be deflected against the wheel.

Few inventions are more interesting than their inventors. Mr. Gillinger himself is no exception to the rule. He is far past middle age. He is an engineer of the old school. He built mill machinery and dams and water wheels and turbines when water power was the most efficient and least expensive known. But his mind has expanded with the age and with the advent of railroads to take the place of river traffic and steam and electricity to take the place of water power, he, with the thousands of others, has come to realize that the old order changeth.

Necessity Its Mother.

To the announcement that a $100,000,000 appropriation was to be made by congress to improve the nation's waterways, Mr. Gillinger gives the credit for his floating power unit idea Realiziny the efficiency of electricity as applied to transportation, the high price and predicted scarcity of coal, gas and other fuel, the unmeasurable and ever wasted energy generated by the rivers of the country, and, most of all, the expense and impracticability of up-stream river navigation, he took it upon himself to find a way to use the wasted water power economically.

"It is an economic waste to fight power with power." said Gillinger. "When a river boat plows upstream that is what is taking place. A $100,000,000 appropriation to improve waterways for transportation purposes will mean the construction of expansive river boats that will have power enough to make good time going upstream.. It will mean the dredging of river beds to make the river navigable. It will means the expense of docks. It will mean that each few years another $100,000,000 will have to be appropriated to keep up what we have started, and still all this water power will be wasted. Why not use some practical, inexpensive method of transforming this unlimited water power into electrical energy and run a railway alongside on the river?"

Mr. Gillinger's logic is peculiar. He sees great things to come. He cites an economic need, maybe, and yet his "answer" is seemingly applicable to the nead of the smallest hamlet, or even to that of the modern farmer, for a power unit could be floated on "old thind fork" that runs down across the "east meadow."

But the gray haired inventor claims not a whit of praise or credit for his idea. He says it is but an idea—admits it has never been tried, that it may not "work." He tells of his study merely for the sake of his idea, and it was for the sake of the idea that he went to the trouble to have it patented.

It is his one hope, he says, that future generations may see fit to improve on his idea, and harness the waterways both large and small for the economic good.

Already two civic organizations have inquired as to the applicability of Gillinger's principles to the "juice" needs of their towns.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

KUCHS BROS
QUALITY AND SERVICE

Standing, sitting and walking correctly are the first essentials to good health and that elusive charm we call style

ALL women wish to be well; but all women do not appreciate the vital importance of correct corsetry as an essential to good health. The well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M.D., warns us: "As a physician who knows that if it were not for ill-fitting and the wrong kind of corsets we would have very few female invalids, I am naturally determined to do everything in my power to educate the American woman in the proper fitting of corsets. Most learned physicians now recognize the modern corset as a hygienically healthful garment and one that is often the best means of providing corrective support for many bodily ailments."

GOSSARD CORSETS

have attained their unquestioned superiority by assisting nature to perfect expression.

Every Gossard is hygienically correct. Properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed it will give scientific support to abdominal and back muscles, with no chance of undue pressure at the waistline; the organs of nutrition will be free from pressure; the erect posture which is induced will encourage deep breathing and the diaphragmatic muscles become strong with use. A woman so corseted will have the undeniable beauty of health and that grace of body, standing, sitting, or walking, which is best expressed in the one word, style.

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Our highly specialized corset service is maintained with a full appreciation of the exacting needs of the modern, active woman.

Gossards are priced at $2.50 $2.75 $3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $5.00 $5.50 and more

GLAD SHE TOOK STEP-FATHER'S ADVICE

Mrs. Galloway Gains 15 Pounds After Taking Tanlac And Troubles Are Gone.

"Honestly, I have gained fifteen pounds by taking Tanlac and my improvement is the talk of my neighborhood," said Mrs. J. R. Galloway, wife of one of the best known and most popular conductors on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, residing at 2325 West 33rd Ave., Denver, Colo., recently.

"For three years," continued Mrs. Galloway, "I suffered so from nervousness and catarrh of the head that I couldn't get more than three hours sleep a night. My head was stopped up all the time, my mouth was dry and hot and I had a continual dripping of mucus back into my throat. I was nauseated, especially in the morning, and it would take me sometime to clear my throat of the mucus. My stomach also became affected and I couldn't idgest what I would eat. My food would sour and the gas formed from it made me miserable. I had the most terrible headaches imaginable, and while I tried a number of different kinds of medicines I kept getting worse. I lost my appetite and got so weak and rundown last October I had to give up and was down in bed for three weeks unable to do a thing.

"When I finally got up I was extremely weak and nervous and nothing helped me any until I began using Tanlac. My step-father in Lima, Ohio, told me about Tanlac doing him so much good and advised me to try it and I'm certainly glad I took his advice for three bottles have just about made a well woman of me. I have not had a headache since I started taking Tanlac and the catarrh is so much better that I hardly notice it any more. My stomach is in splendid condition now and my appetite is fine. I can eat and digest anything I want and my nerves have quieted down until I can sleep all night long just like a baby. In fact, I am feeling just about as strong and well as I ever did and as I have already said I have actually gained fifteen pounds besides. Why, I have improved so much that all my friends are talking about it and a number of them are now taking Tanlac, not only on account of what I have told them, but because they can see for themselves what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by the Koch Pharmacy and by A. M. Colly, Conception Junction; H. M. Lincoln, Pickering, and Carter Pharmacy, Burlington Junction, Mo., and in Barnard, by Bear Drug Store, in Elmo by King Drug Co., and in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley; Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk. —Adv.

PURE WATER LOWERS DEATH RATE.

Report of St. Louis Water Dept. Shows Decrease in Deaths in 1918.

St. Louis, May 12.—The death rate in this city due to typhoid fever during the year ending April 1, 1919, was 7,455 deaths per 100,000 of population, according to the annual report of the City Water Department.

The rate is exceptionally low which is evidence of the efficient purification system used by the department, it was explained by Assistant Water Commissioner Cutts and Secretary Cheney of the Water Department.

The estimate is based on a total population estimate of 778,000 in St. Louis. Cheney explained this was low, but it was the figure estimated by city engineers, which would be reached by St. Louis in 1918. He said the estimate if raised would make a better showing for the Water Department. There are fifty-eight deaths due to eyphoid fever last year, according to the report.

Statistics have been kept since 1850 showing the number of deaths each year from typhoid. The tables show a gradual declining percentage of deaths since the establishment of the purification system after the world's fair in 1904. The Mississippi River, from which the city water is obtained, contains a large amount of bacilli which are removed in filtration and purification. The public health of St. Louis stands highest in the United States, largely due to the efficient water supply system, said Cutts.

M.H.S. WINNER IN LITERARY CONTEST

RUTH MILLER OF LOCAL SCHOOL TAKES FIRST IN GIRL'S DECLAMATION

SAVANNAH ALSO WINS

Octette From Benton High, St. Joe, Takes Musical Contest—Maryville Quartet Handicapped.

The final half of the literary contest held in connection with the Tenth Annual Track and Field Meet of the Northwest Missouri High School Association was given Saturday night at the Maryville High School Auditorium Maryville winning first place in the Girl's Declamation contest.

Miss Ruth Miller of the local school, won the Girl's Declamation for Maryville with a humorous reading, "At the Matinee."

Lucile Kerlin, Albany, won second place in this event; Ada McCullough, Cameron, third; Cleota Hendrix, Cowgill, fourth, and Hazel Dickey, St. Joseph, fifth.

In the Boy's Oratorical contest, Norris Crosby of Savannah, was the winner; Ralph Lanning, New Hampton, second; Roy Arrowwood, Excelsior Springs, third, and Louis Baum, St. Joseph, fourth.

The Octette from St. Joseph was the winner of the musical contest, with the sextette of Liberty High, second.

Miss Miller, the winner of the Girl's Declamation for Maryville, gave "At the Matinee," the same number in which she won the preliminary contest here several weeks ago and the excellent delivery and acting which she put into the piece easily assured her the winning place.

In the Boy's Oratorical contest, Norris Crosby was the winner with an address on "A Message to Garcia." Crosby won the decision of the judges through his forceful delivery, and the clear presentatioon of his points.

In the musical contest Benton High of St. Joseph, presented an octette which was an easy winner in the event. "New and Old Kentucky Home" was the title of the song given by the group and the down state representatives showed that they were real entertainers. The Liberty Sextette also put on a very good number which was appreciated by the audience.

The Maryville Quartette, originally entered in the Music contest, suffered a misfortune in the inability of Clifford Hull to appear owing to illness. Russell Allan, Lee Maier and Floyd Foreman, appeared as a trio, and although their presentation was success ful it was generally conceded that their chances for the cup would have been materially increased if the fourth member had been able to be present.

The contest was well attended last night, many of the students from the s hools entered in the track meet during the afternoon remaining over to hear the final event.

The fifth high school district, the district of which Maryville is the center, was very successful in the literary contest this year, being the winners in four of the five first places offered.

Won Diamond Rings.

Miss Nora Abels of Maryville and Roy Logan of Arkoe were the lucky ones to win diamond rings at the opening of the Kuehs Bros., jewelry and stationery store Saturday afternoon. Miss Abels number was 174 and Mr. Logan's number was 54. Over 600 registered at the store for this contest. A number of others visited the store who did not register.

Miss Elizabeth Cook, a teacher in Benton High School, St. Joseph, spent Saturday and Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cook.

NODAWAY CO. GOES OVER IN V-LOAN

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO GO $1,000 OVER QUOTA

"HONOR FLAG" FOR POLK

Big Supscriptions Predominate in the Campaign—"Clean-up" Drive Being Made at Hughes and Monroe Today.

Nodaway County oversubscribed her quota in the fifth Victory Liberty Loan it was announced by Chairman C. E. Donlin, head of the Loan Committee for this county today.

The Loan drive ended at midnight Saturday night, and Chairman Donlin announced that the entire quota of $1,040,750 had been subscribed at that time. The work of tabulating the various subscriptions is being carried on at the banks throughout the county today and the Loan leaders stated that a final report of the amount sold at each place would be ready for publication tomorrow.

Owing to the poor condition of the roads, the Committees in Hughes and Monroe townships have not been able to make a thorough canvas of the territory, and these two districts are the only ones in the county that have not subscribed their quota.

Chairman Donlin stated that the work is being carried on at these places today and that every effort is being made to secure the "honor flag" for the townships, and give Nodaway County a 100 per cent average for the drive. Mr. Donlin said that if the two townships go over by night, Nodaway county will be approximately $25,000 over her quota.

Chairman M. E. Ford, of the Polk township committee, stated today that although the entire quota of $429,350 had not been raised by individual subscriptions, the county went over the top through the action of the banks in taking up the deficit.

The banks will keep these bonds, it was announced, and will dispose of them later to those who may wish to invest in the Victory notes.

Chairman Ford announced today that the Victory Loan in this county and township has been subscribed almost entirely through the banks and through volunteer investors. "There have been fewer subscriptions in this Loan than in the previous ones" said Mr. Ford, "but as a rule the subscriptions have been for larger amounts." Fifty and one hundred dolar subscriptions were rare in the drive just passed, he announced.

BILLION OVER LOAN QUOTA PREDICTED.

Washington, May 12.—The over-subscription to the Victory Loan will total at least one billion dollars, the Treasury officials predicted today.

REV. COX ADDRESSES GRADUATING CLASS

HOLD UNION SERVICES

Pastor Tells Students of Future Prospects—Entire Graduating Class Wear Cap and Gowns—Other Churches in Program.

Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, pastor of the First M. E. church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Maryville High School at the union service held last night at the Christian church.

The entire graduating class of the school occupied seats at the front of the church, and attended the service in cap and gown.

In his talk, Rev. Cox took as his subject, "The Man for Tomorrow" and in an impressive manner told the graduates of the things that are expected of the man and woman of tomorrow. He illustrated the great opportunities which have opened up since the war and the progressive spirit which has come about since the cessation of the great conflict.

"The wide-awake, progressive man is the one who makes a success in this age," said Dr. Cox, "and the world is searching for the person with the new ideas and plans, and with the proper initiative and ambition to push him through to success."

In his talk Dr. Cox showed that the young people of the present time have better and wider opportunities to make good than ever before, and urged each of the boys and girls who are now completing their school training, to make the most of these opportunities which are offered them.

In connection with the talk by Rev. Cox, a program was given, which was taken part in jointly by representatitves of the various Protestant churches of the city.

Rev. R. C. Holliday of the South Methodist church, delivered the opening invocation and a Scripture reading was given by Rev. W. C. Ferguson of the Baptist church. Rev. S. A. Coile of the Presbyterian church said a prayer during the service and a number of hymns were sung by the entire congregation.

One of the largest crowds ever gathered at the Christian church, was present to hear the sermon by Dr. Cox, and the program which followed.

MARYVILLE TAKES SECOND IN MEET

BETHANY, SAVANNAH AND NEW HAMPTON TAKE FIRST PLACE

SHATTER OLD RECORDS

French and Smith Star for Maryville Team—Disputes Brought Up in Relay Events.

Bethany High School, with a total of 43½ points, was the winner in the Class A division of the Tenth Annual Northwest Missouri High School Track and Field Meet held Saturday afternoon at the State Normal field. Maryville High was second, with 39 points, Trenton third with 30½ points and Benton of St. Joseph, fourth, with 29½ points. In Class B, Savannah was the winner with 64 points while Ridgeway was a close second with 63 counters. Richmond High secured third with 21 points. In Class C, New Hampton was an easy winner with 46 points, Fairfax Consolidated, second, with 24 3-4, and Stanberry, third, with 22.

The day was an ideal one for the meet, and the fast track and field resulted in the breaking of three records and the tieing of one.,

R. Scott of Ridgeway, a Class B school, broke the record for the shot put with a heave of 41 feet, 4 7-8 inches. The former record for this event was 40 feet, 8½ inches, made by White of Tarkio in 1914.

In the high jump, C. Jameson of Stanberry, Class C, cleared the bar at 5 feet, 7 inches, breaking the record of Stone of Ridgeway, of 5 feet, 6 3-4 inches, made in 1916.

G. Sanford of Stanberry, broke the record made by Ralph Yehle of Maryville of 42 feet, 8¼ inches, made in 1916, by a jump of 42 feet, 10 3-4 inches.

The record of 10 feet, 8 inches for the pole vault made by Younger of Maitland in 1915, was equaled yesterday by Nedrow, also of Maitland.

Captain French of Maryville, was the leading point winner for his team annexing first in the standing broad jump and tying for first in the running broad jump and was third in the hundred yard dash. Smith of Maryville, won second in the 220 yard dash, and also second in the 440 yard dash.

Williams of Maryville, was the winner of the hundred yard dash. Pierpoint, also a local man, secured second in the shot put, and third in the hop, step and jump. Miller was third in the 120 yard high hurdles and fourth in the low hurdles. Wright won second in the pole vault and McPherron won third in the discus and fourth in the shot put.

M. Kidney of New Hampton, Class C, was the individual high scorer of the meet, with four firsts, two seconds, and a third, a total of 28 points.

The award of the championship cups in the relay events was held up yesterday by protest being entered in Classes A and B of the ineligibility of the contending athletes. In the first event a protest was entered against the entry of Cameron on the grounds that one member of the relay team was not entered in that event. If the protest is allowed Maryville will get the championship cup in this event. In Class B the same controversy came up over the entry of Ridgeway High. A decision pending the award of the cups. Following is the summary of the events and the points made by each school.

A decision in the matter of the cup award was later left to Corresponding Secretary H. P. Swinehart who will announce his decision later.

PROTEST KAISER TRIAL

Independent Party Make Demands Tht Teuton Envoys Remain at Versailles—Report Rejection of Terms.

Berlin, May 12.—A full session of the National Assembly was held here today to consider the peace terms. Before the recession opened it was reported that the assembly of men would reject the proposal. Committees representing the six main political parties held a series of caucases lasting all day Saturday and Sunday, and with the exception of Independence, reported all the resolutions adopted.

That the treaty is not acceptable and could not be signed is the division of opinion brought about by the Independents which led to the belief that the meeting of the National Assembly would develop into a stormy one. The Independents have made outright demands that the Teutonic envoys at Versailles coninue negotiations.

The German Peoples party and the Nationalists, both protested specifically against the deliveraance of the ex-kaiser and any of the other German officials to the Entente Powers for trial.

London, May 12.—Premier Scheidmann told a secret session of the peace committee of the German national assembly that Germany will sign the peace treaty, said a dispatch to the Daily News today.

MARSHALL FOCH TO RETIRE.

London, May 12.—Marshall Foch is dissatisfied with the peace treaty agreement and is going to retire. Sir John Fraser telegraphed the evening Standard today. Marshall Petain, in the dispatches, is scheduled to succeed him.

Pres. Wilson Firm in Stand That Co-operation of That Country Needed for Peace of Europe—Boundary Questions Up.

Paris, May 12.—It is more than probable that the Russian Bolshevik peace delegates will be invited to Paris before the end of the present month, according to information from an authortative source today. The Allies, it is said, may find a way to "half recognize" the Lenine regime at Moscow and probably the Turks also.

The International Socialists are planning to issue a manifesto recommending Germany to sign the peace treaty to avert further bloodshed. President Wilson is reported to be emphatic in his stand that the peace of Europe needs the co-operation of Russia. A report of the Commission dealing with the new frontiers of Hungary may be approved by the "Big Four" and the new Austrian boundaries were under consideration today.

BRITISH AND FRENCH WARSHIPS AT HELSINGFERS.

London, May 12.—Several French and British warships are reported to have arrived at Helsingfors near the entrance to the Gulf of Bothia, and all the foreigners have been ordered to leave the city said Stockholm dispatches—Helsingfors was one of the sea defenses of Petrograd before she finally revolted against Russian rule.

New Idea for City Power Plant

J. J. Gillinger of Quitman, Mo., Adopts Water Wheel Principal in His Invention for Cheaper Power.

If necessity is the mother of invention, opportunity is the male parents, according to J. J. Gillinger of Quitman, Mo. And to what he terms the necessity always to save money, and to the opportunity to save it in dealing with America's waterway problem, he gives the credit for his floating electric unit, which he believes will prove a most efficient means of generating electric current.

"It's a damned dam, without a damn," said the inventor.

Gillinger's aim was to build generating plant to be operated by water power without the expense of daming the stream. So he built his water wheel on a boat. And he geared the wheel to a dynamo. He swung the boat out into the stream, towed it to where the current was strongest, cabled it to piles driven in the bank on either side of the stream, and his floating power plant was complete. All that was left to do was to wire his "juice" to his "load."

All this, however, was done in his ind. It looked so practical on paper Mr Gillinger had the idea pattnted Jan. Gillinger had the ieda patented Jan. 28, 1919, and now he is offering it for sale to cities, towns, corporations, individuals—any one who can use inexpensive electric power.

It Floats.

Gillinger's idea is adaptable to small and large streams alike. It has many advantages over the old mill dam, and the inventor believes it will compare well with the old-style machinery in mechanical efficiency.

The mere fast that the water wheel floats insures steady and equal energy being exerted against the wheel, thereby relieving the danger of a shutdown because of low water in the stream, or because of floods. The entire plant is always at the water's level.

To direct stronger current, against the wheel, deflectors are built on the upstream end of the pontoons which form the hull of the boat. These deflectors, built of wood or iron, may be of any length and depth, according to the width and depth of the stream. They are hinged to the scows and may be set at any angle. If because of high water the current is swifter at certain seasons, the angle may be reduced, there by decreasing the amount of water directed against the wheel. The two scows which form the hull of the boat are also cut at an angle. These form a continuation of the deflectors, pushing more current into the apperture between the scows.

Can Regulate Current.

Both the deflectors and the wheel may be raised or lowered in the water. The deflector may be made to rest on the bottom of the stream if necessary, and the wheel may be lowered to near the depth if the load demands.

The deflectors may be swung together at the upstream end, forming a water-split or bow for launching the scow, or in case of floating ice cakes that might damage the water wheel mechanism. A brace placed across the deflectors holds them in place and prevents driftwood nd the like from entering the slushway. The brace may be extended into the water for deflecting drift and ice.

It Won't Freeze Up.

In the event that the stream freezes over the eficiency of the plant is not materially decreased. Ice is always at the water level, and even though the scow may freeze in the ice the wheel is still in contact with the current underneath. The constant churning of the wheel alone will prevent the water immediately between the pontoons from freezing, at least until the entire stream has frozen over. After the surface freezes the air suction of this one opening in the ice, together with the movement of the wheel, will prevent freezing. In extremely cold climates electric coil heaters operated from current generated by the water wheel may be used to advantage.

The power unit is equally as practical on the larger rivers. On the big stream the current is stronger, and consequently more power can be generated. The deflectors and the depth of the water wheel can be set to receive the proper amount of current energy.

Boats Can Go 'Round.

With the floating dam in operation, locks or canals are unnecessary to river traffic. In rivers where boats are in common use, the power unit may be moored to piles driven at any place in the river bed. The entire plant may be swung into the middle of the river leaving ample room on either side for boats to pass.

The unit may be built in any size to suit the power needs. The specifications call for a ten-foot wheel. That is, a water wheel ten feet in length, he diameter being proportionately greater to afford more lererage against the drive shaft, and to make it possible to lower the wheel into the current to the desired depth. A unit of this size, Mr. Gillinger estimates would develop power enough to supply a small smaller unit would be sufficient to furnish power for farm machinery, or for lighting a summer camp.

If the load is heavy a multiple-unit plant may be installed. The scows may be anchored one directly behind the other, each unit developing equally as much power as the first, probably gaining a few revolutions because of the turbulent water in the wake of the first unit, and more water would be deflected against the wheel.

Few inventions are more interesting than their inventors. Mr. Gillinger himself is no exception to the rule. He is far past middle age. He is an engineer of the old school. He built mill machinery and dams and water wheels and turbines when water power was the most efficient and least expensive known. But his mind has expanded with the age and with the advent of railroads to take the place of river traffic and steam and electricity to take the place of water power, he, with the thousands of others, has come to realize that the old order changeth.

Necessity Its Mother.

To the announcement that a $100,000,000 appropriation was to be made by congress to improve the nation's waterways, Mr. Gillinger gives the credit for his floating power unit idea Realiziny the efficiency of electricity as applied to transportation, the high price and predicted scarcity of coal, gas and other fuel, the unmeasurable and ever wasted energy generated by the rivers of the country, and, most of all, the expense and impracticability of up-stream river navigation, he took it upon himself to find a way to use the wasted water power economically.

"It is an economic waste to fight power with power," said Gillinger. "When a river boat plows upstream that is what is taking place. A $100,000,000 appropriation to improve waterways for transportation purposes will mean the construction of expansive river boats that will have power enough to make good time going upstream.. It will mean the dredging of river beds to make the river navigable. It will means the expense of docks. It will mean that each few years another $100,000,000 will have to be appropriated to keep up what we have started, and still all this water power will be wasted. Why not use some practical, inexpensive method of transforming this unlimited water power into electrical energy and run a railway alongside on the river?"

Mr. Gillinger's logic is peculiar. He sees great things to come. He cites an economic need, maybe, and yet his "answer" is seemingly applicable to the nead of the smallest hamlet, or even to that of the modern farmer, for a power unit could be floated on "old thind fork" that runs down across the "east meadow."

But the gray haired inventor claims not a whit of praise or credit for his idea. He says it is but an idea—admits it has never been tried, that it may not "work." He tells of his study merely for the sake of his idea, and it was for the sake of the idea that he went to the trouble to have it patented.

It is his one hope, he says, that future generations may see fit to improve on his idea, and harness the waterways both large and small for the economic good.

Already two civic organizations have inquired as to the applicability of Gillinger's principles to the "juice" needs of their towns.

KUCHS BROS
QUALITY AND SERVICE

Standing, sitting and walking correctly are the first essentials to good health and that elusive charm we call style

ALL women wish to be well; but all women do not appreciate the vital importance of correct corsetry as an essential to good health. The well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M.D., warns us: "As a physician who knows that if it were not for ill-fitting and the wrong kind of corsets we would have very few female invalids, I am naturally determined to do everything in my power to educate the American woman in the proper fitting of corsets. Most learned physicians now recognize the modern corset as a hygienically healthful garment and one that is often the best means of providing corrective support for many bodily ailments."

GOSSARD CORSETS

have attained their unquestioned superiority by assisting nature to perfect expression.

Every Gossard is hygienically correct. Properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed it will give scientific support to abdominal and back muscles, with no chance of undue pressure at the waistline; the organs of nutrition will be free from pressure; the erect posture which is induced will encourage deep breathing and the diaphragmatic muscles become strong with use. A woman so corseted will have the undeniable beauty of health and that grace of body, standing, sitting, or walking, which is best expressed in the one word, style.

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Our highly specialized corset service is maintained with a full appreciation of the exacting needs of the modern, active woman.

Gossards are priced at $2.50 $2.75 $3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $5.00 $5.50 and more

"SPANK 'EM" SAYS PREACHER.

Boston, Mass., May 12.—"The styles of today are the most immodest, suggestive and damnable in the history of the world," declared the Rev. Cortland Myers, preaching in Tremont Temple, on "Samson and Delilah."

He beseeched mothers to take their daughters in hand and "guide them right and—spank them, if necessary."

"A good woman is the greatest blessing in the world, but a bad woman can send a man to hell so fast he doesn't know he has started," said the preacher.

GLAD SHE TOOK STEP-FATHER'S ADVICE

Mrs. Galloway Gains 15 Pounds After Taking Tanlac And Troubles Are Gone.

"Honestly, I have gained fifteen pounds by taking Tanlac and my improvement is the talk of my neighborhood," said Mrs. J. R. Galloway, wife of one of the best known and most popular conductors on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, residing at 2325 West 33rd Ave., Denver, Colo., recently.

"For three years," continued Mrs. Galloway, "I suffered so from nervousness and catarrh of the head that I couldn't get more than three hours sleep a night. My head was stopped up all the time, my mouth was dry and hot and I had a continual dripping of mucus back into my throat. I was nauseated, especially in the morning, and it would take me sometime to clear my throat of the mucus. My stomach also became affected and I couldn't idgest what I would eat. My food would sour and the gas formed from it made me miserable. I had the most terrible headaches imaginable, and while I tried a number of different kinds of medicines I kept getting worse. I lost my appetite and got so weak and rundown last October I had to give up and was down in bed for three weeks unable to do a thing.

"When I finally got up I was extremely weak and nervous and nothing helped me any until I began using Tanlac. My step-father in Lima, Ohio, told me about Tanlac doing him so much good and advised me to try it and I'm certainly glad I took his advice for three bottles have just about made a well woman of me. I have not had a headache since I started taking Tanlac and the catarrh is so much better that I hardly notice it any more. My stomach is in splendid condition now and my appetite is fine. I can eat and digest anything I want and my nerves have quieted down until I can sleep all night long just like a baby. In fact, I am feeling just about as strong and well as I ever did and as I have already said I have actually gained fifteen pounds besides. Why, I have improved so much that all my friends are talking about it and a number of them are now taking Tanlac, not only on account of what I have told them, but because they can see for themselves what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by the Koch Pharmacy and by A. M. Colly, Conception Junction; H. M. Lincoln, Pickering, and Carter Pharmacy, Burlington Junction, Mo., and in Barnard, by Bear Drug Store, in Elmo by King Drug Co., and in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley; Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk. —Adv.

Washington D. C.—More than $45,000,000 worth of motor trucks are about to be distributed by the Secretary of Agriculture through the Bureau of Public Roads to the state highway departments. These trucks have been declared surplus by the War department and are being distributed to the states under the provisions of Section 7 of the Post Office Appropriation Bill. They must be used by the states on roads constructed in whole or in part by Federal aid, for which $200,000,000 in addition to the former appropriation was given to the states under the same bill. All the states must do to acquire the use of these 20,000 trucks, which range in capacity from two to five tons, is to pay the loading and freight charges.

Of the 20,000 motor vehicles to be acquired practically free by the states, 11,000 are new and 9,000 are used, but all are declared to be in serviceable condition. The motors will be apportioned to states only upon request of the State highway departments on the basis of the requests received from the respective states, and in accordance with the apportionment provided in the Federal aid law approved in 1916. The requirements of the law are such that the Bureau of Public Roads can not distribute any trucks to counties or individuals.

PALLBEARERS SMOKE PIPES.

Boothesville, W. Va., May 12.—The spetacle of pallbearers escorting a corpse to the grave while smoking corn cobs was presented here recently when the body of W. S. Goodwin was buried. Goodwin's dying request was that smoking be permitted at the funeral. Goodwin had smoked a pipe for sixty-eight of his seventy-three years. He preferred homespun tobacco and was an adept at cutting off the exact amount to make a pipeful.

PURE WATER LOWERS DEATH RATE.

Report of St. Louis Water Dept. Shows Decrease in Deaths in 1918.

St. Louis, May 12.—The death rate in this city due to typhoid fever during the year ending April 1, 1919, was 7,455 deaths per 100,000 of population, according to the annual report of the City Water Department.

The rate is exceptionally low which is evidence of the efficient purification system used by the department, it was explained by Assistant Water Commissioner Cutts and Secretary Cheney of the Water Department.

The estimate is based on a total population estimate of 778,000 in St. Louis. Cheney explained this was low, but it was the figure estimated by city engineers, which would be reached by St. Louis in 1918. He said the estimate if raised would make a better showing for the Water Department. There are fifty-eight deaths due to eyphoid fever last year, according to the report.

Statistics have been kept since 1850 showing the number of deaths each year from typhoid. The tables show a gradual declining percentage of deaths since the establishment of the purification system after the world's fair in 1904. The Mississippi River, from which the city water is obtained, contains a large amount of bacilli which are removed in filtration and purification. The public health of St. Louis stands highest in the United States, largely due to the efficient water supply system, said Cutts.
